

HOME FRONT TRENDS!

BY WENDY WONG

WHITE HAUTE!

Paws off the Pucci prints. This season, color takes a backseat to white-hot design that's the essence of cool. Start with a retro-modern, iPod-playing phonograph set next to an opaque Illusion table that absolutely channels Philippe Starck. Throw in architect and under-the-radar designer Victor Vetterlein's Meeraboo side table with the head scratch-inducing Q-tipped legs. Made to breathe chic without screaming from the color wheel, the new breed of white gets you good looks that will never fade into the background. »

Clockwise from top: Tobias Wang's rubber-encased crystal chandelier, $4,800, at www.citizen-citizen.com. Science + Sens' ceramic Phonofone II audio console, $825, at www.scienceandsens.com. Victor Vetterlein's fiberless Meeraboo side table, $2,700, at www.victorvetterlein.com. Itano Naguchi's faceted aluminum Prismatic table, $545, at www.novato.com. Essay of Denmark'supal Blusier side table, $260, at www.greenerygrassdesign.com. Jaime Hayon's quilted Showtime chair with cover, $8,450, at www.usicahome.com.

