

Victor Vetterlein

Victor Vetterlein's Wooljuin-2007 MT-1 was inspired by his interest in pod architecture as well as robotics. His intention was to create a piece of furniture that captures automation. The table appears to be mobile, has storage compartments for information (magazines), and is wired with an adjustable light source.

www.victorvetterlein.com

Victor Vetterlein's Wooljuin-2007 MT-1

Messen and Holtmann

et barbara, gisela, helga, pussy and jenny - no ordinary ladies Dirk Messen and Leander Holtmann's Tafelmädchen - chalk board ladies.

<http://www.tafelmaedchen.de>

Messen and Holtmann's Tafelmädchen

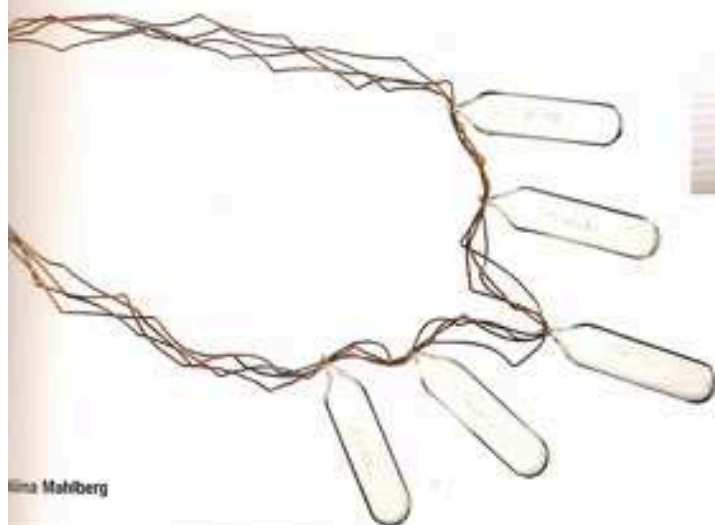

Architectural Digest Home Design Show

The sixth annual Architectural Digest Home Design Show took place between 8 and 11 March. Co-sponsored by The New York Times, it showcased the newest designs including William Haines' chairs.

www.archdigesthomedesignshow.com

William Haines' chair

Niina Mahlberg

Niina Mahlberg

Glass designer Niina Mahlberg designs and manufactures unique glass jewellery. She works in her own studio in Helsinki - and uses an ancient technique to make her pieces.

www.helmidesign.com